Sunny

Last Sunday, my parents and I went to Golden Beach so we could relax while the warm wind mildly blew on our faces. We arrived there at 12:45. It was my first time being there. Even though I haven't been there before, I already knew a lot about the beach because my friend told me a lot about it. I was very excited about this trip because the beach was famous for its magnificent scenery.

I brought some sunblock to protect my skin from the sun and also some towels. I was wearing a one-piece bathing suit with a long dress on top to cover myself from the slightly cold wind before I went swimming. When we arrived at the beach, we saw people participating in water sports and sunbathing. I walked to the bookings counter to see if any activities caught my eyes. I saw a snorkeling class and I was quite interested. My family signed up for the class and the coach explained the basic snorkeling technique to us.

After that, it was time to get to our destination. We got on the boat that sent us to the middle of the sea. Then, we got into our diving suit and got into the water one by one. The scenery under the blue surface of the sea was astonishing. There was bright colored coral in the colors of the rainbow. There were also colorful fish and cute turtles swimming around us like they were welcoming us to this magical world. We swam around and took pictures of the seascape. We also encountered a whale shark!

When we finished the trip, the sun was already setting. We looked at the stunning sunset and took some photos of it. This experience was exactly what I imagine it to be. It was such an amazing day!
