

A Green Mid-Autumn Festival

Today is the Mid-Autumn Festival, John has a barbecue with his family. They bring a lot of food such as steaks, shrimps, ribs, fishes, sausages, chicken wings, fish balls and marshmallows.

After the meal, they play with lanterns and eat moon cakes. Everyone is happy. After that, they tidy up the barbecue site. Dad puts out the fire and the kids pick up the rubbish. They group plastic, paper and metal together, then put them into the recycling bins.

The next day, John watches the news. The Mayor visits the barbecue site and says, “Thanks for keeping the barbecue site clean!” John recognises the barbecue site. He tells Dad that the barbecue site that they went last night is on the news.
